

Please do not create restrictions on satellite radio services, for which I pay a monthly fee to receive. Government protection of AM and FM radio at the expense of Satellite radio is the same as historical attempts to protect buggy whip manufacturers when the car was invented or canal systems when the railroad was invented. Government should not interfere with legitimate technological progress.

I thoroughly enjoy my XM radio and almost never listen to a local AM or FM station anymore.

When it comes to regulating the airwaves, the FCC needs to wake up and smell the coffee!
